
WHY GLOBAL LEARNING?

"Because children are always asking questions about these sorts of things."	"It helps enable things to happen in the school which need to be done anyway, including some of the more difficult things."	"Children are growing up in a global society. They need to understand cultural differences and similarities in order to develop respect for others."
"Children need to understand how things work in societies different from their own, as well as understanding how their own works."	"It can help children build a positive sense of their own identity."	"Global learning will prepare children for life in a changing world."
"Because of our catchment area, a lot of the parents don't take an interest in different cultures and the children lack awareness of global issues."	"The global context affects all sorts of everyday events and actions. Children cannot make sense of what is happening around them unless they are aware of this impact."	"It stimulates thinking and learning."
