

JAMAICA – PUSH AND PULL FACTORS

Why do people go to live in other places?

People go to other places for a variety of reasons.

Push factors encourage them to leave a particular place.

Pull factors encourage them to go to a particular place.

Think about a time when you have moved somewhere. It might have been to a new house, or on a holiday, or been a change of school.

Using the picture below, list some push factors on the left hand side, and some pull factors on the right.

Which did you feel were strongest on this occasion?
